

Dear Supplier,

As a valued business partner to Konecranes, this is a reminder of the requirements related to the European Union's REACH Regulation (EC 1907/2006 concerning the Registration, Evaluation, Authorisation and Restriction of Chemicals) and the importance of complying with it.

The Konecranes Restricted Substance List refers to the REACH Regulation and to the regulation's three substance lists:

- Candidate List of Substances of Very High Concern (SVHC),
- the Authorisation list (Annex XIV) and
- the Restricted substances list (Annex XVII).

The three substance lists of the REACH Regulation are updated on a regular basis and to remain in compliance, suppliers must be aware of the latest changes and take appropriate measures.

In addition, the Waste Framework Directive requires that EU importers, assemblers, and manufacturers notify the articles (e.g. products, parts, components, packaging) containing Candidate list substances above 0.1 % to ECHA's SCIP database. Konecranes, an EU assembler of complex articles, requires the SCIP numbers from its suppliers for its own notifications to ECHA. If a supplier is located outside the EU, Konecranes is required to collect all necessary SCIP information from the supplier in order to submit the needed SCIP notifications.

Konecranes expects its suppliers to uphold compliance standards and sustain strong collaboration to guarantee a smooth and continuous supply chain. Please regularly monitor updates to the REACH substance lists and take appropriate action to ensure your products remain compliant with the latest regulations.

All Konecranes suppliers are also advised to check the following links for further information:

- Restricted substances list [Annex XVII of the REACH Regulation] on ECHA's website (<https://echa.europa.eu/fi/substances-restricted-under-reach>)
- List of substances subject to Authorisation [Annex XIV of the REACH Regulation] on ECHA's website (<https://echa.europa.eu/fi/authorisation-list>)

At Konecranes we trust that through cooperation, we will fulfil our common obligations and continue to provide safe and compliant products to our customers.

Yours sincerely,
